

Impossible

Anberlin

You make my teeth clench and my hands shake
Do you ever see what you do to me?
You're wearing me out
Just wearing me out
But I'm wearing you down

You're impossible to love or leave
So impossible to win or please
I'm wearing you out
Just wearing you out
But I'm wearing you down

Take what you want from me
It means nothing now
Take everything from me
It means nothing now
Not so easy to forgive; harder to forget
Take what you want

I make your lips wet
And your moans quake
Try to think through what I can do to you
It's wearing me thin,
Can I begin to wear you out?

Take what you want from me
It means nothing now
Take everything from me
It means nothing now
Not so easy to forgive; harder to forget
Take what you want

I'm impossible to figure out
So impossible you had your doubts

Take what you want from me
It means nothing now
Take everything, honey,
It means nothing now
Not so easy to forgive; harder to forget
Take what you want from me
It means nothing now
Take everything, honey
It means nothing now
Not so easy to forgive; harder to forget
Take what you want from me
