Signs of Life

Those cool kids Stuck in the past Apartments of cigarette ash Wait outside until it begins Won't be the first ones in

Spend your life waiting in life You find it hard to define But you do it every time Then you do it again

Looking for signs of life Looking for signs every night But there's no signs of life So we do it again Looking for signs of life Looking for signs every night But there's no signs of life So we do it again

First kiss tastes like cigarettes Dead man walking take your bets Once again you lost your friends Around and around again

Those cool kids Stuck in the past Apartments of cigarette ash "Where are we going?" Who did you ask?

Those cool kids Stuck in the past In a world of cigarette ash "Where are we going?" Who did you ask? Who did you ask?

Looking for signs of life Looking for signs every night But there's no signs of life So we do it again Looking for signs of life Looking for signs every night But there's no signs of life So we do it again

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday Friday, Saturday, sometimes Sunday Love is hard, sex is easy God in heaven, could you please me?

You think you invented life You find it hard to define But you do it every time Then you do it again

Arcade Fire

Looking for signs of life Looking for signs every night But there's no signs of life So we do it again Still looking for signs of life (Signs of Life) Looking for signs every night But there's no signs of life So we do it again Those cool kids Stuck in the past

Stuck in the past In a world of cigarette ash "Where are we going?" Who did you ask? Who did you ask?

Looking for signs of life Looking for signs every night But there's no signs of life So we do it again Looking for signs of life Looking for signs every night But there's no signs of life So we do it again

(Still looking) Looking for signs of life (Signs of life) Still looking for signs of life (Signs of life)

Looking for signs of life Looking for signs every night But there's no signs of life So we do it again Looking for signs of life Looking for signs every night But there's no signs of life So we do it again
