

Martyrs

Betraying the Martyrs

Betrayal, they suffered, they're suffering now
Blood spills bones break, what is it for?
Whole lives spent to save us all for mankind
To repay the favor with a spit in the face

The eyes of the martyrs, the eyes of God himself
Are in the ground amongst the flowing blood
We have reduced from this earth

Too many screams have been heard,
(What did they suffer for?)
Too many lives have been lost
(They shall suffer no more)
They rise above, consume and cleanse
On this day, we will scream for them

Step back, look at what we've done
The tears of martyrs will fall and drown
Drown a thousand with a burning rage
This world will become an inferno

BLACK!

Too many screams have been heard,
(What did they suffer for?)
Too many lives have been lost
(They shall suffer no more)
They rise above, consume and cleanse
On this day, we will scream for them

We will scream for them!

We die now, for the sake of them
Our tears will fall, our cries shall be heard
We are the martyrs our cries shall be heard

What is it for?
Nothing!
