

We Are Gathered Here Today

Bleed from Within for days ive hidden away from this curse that weakens me tears down my every dream withering away i watch as you crawl through my mind tearing down all thats left your beauty lies inside buried beneath a mask that you wear only to hide your true emotions your self pity that you place upon the mind of the innocent only digs you deeper down in the ground where you'l lay for thi s eternity

ill walk the night that leads me forth to my destiny and you will rot as u watch me burning these gallows where ill hang your head And dance around the flames
