Bring Down the Tears

Giving up the endless walk Through the broken signs Search for the ending Where no-one has ever been Living in a fantasy Or disguised in the shadows

Shutdown Shutdown minds from the worldwide Blindness prevailing our lives

(Chorus)

Where is the glory of our last days There lies the truth of our blackened hearts Feels like I've been here before It's more than just an empty feeling More than just a déjà vu

Dead inside I built my wall Shelter for my heart Enclosing my tears Inside my mind in nothingness Perfect shielding for The great cold curtains to fall

I just fight to find way out of the sunlight Veins are freezing inside my soul is dead!

There's no hope for the dreaming ones There's no cover, no shelter No escape from the silent guns Wall of lies, liberty fails

Blind Stare
