

Stranger in Me

Cardiant

This day and this feeling, we're back to the start
I haven't seen stop signs, have we gone too far?
Feels like a rain without a cloud
When she screams out of the sound
These things aren't meant to be explained, no

I act like a stranger in disguise
Lead her to a nightmare she don't wanna wake
I've been out of line in a star-crossed path
Won't get any closer to her heart
We will cross the line

I am chasing the shadow while I'm dancing away
I see a stranger in me
Rain feels colder again
Tell me why should I ever even try anymore
To lay my pride on the line
Haven't cried ever since I ain't been myself

So much rejection makes me numb
Can't shed any tears, I've got to scape
Hypnotic dreams are about to come real
Misty delusions only to see
We've crossed the line for good

I am chasing the shadow while I'm dancing away
I see a stranger in me
Rain feels colder again
Tell me why should I ever even try anymore
To lay my pride on the line
Haven't cried ever since I ain't been myself

Why should I take the pain again? Oh!

I'm chasing the shadow while I'm dancing away
I see a stranger in me
Rain feels colder again
Tell me why should I ever even try anymore
To lay my pride on the line
Haven't cried ever since I ain't been myself
