

Monday Without You

Carole King

Yesterday was a perfect day
Living in make-believe, perfect together

In your eyes I was number one
And you were all the world to me forever, ever and ever

But you have another life
You're going to somewhere I don't belong

I can't think about Monday
I can't think about watching you walk away
I only want to be with you
I just want to be with you
I can't think about anything else but Sunday and the touch of you
I only want to be with you
I can't think about Monday without you

In an empty room
Waiting for a reason why
Trying, crying, dying
I know that it's over
But I don't want to hear you say goodbye

I can't think about Monday
I can't think about watching you walk away
I only want to be with you
I just want to be with you
I can't think about anything else but Sunday and the touch of you
I only want to be with you
I can't think about Monday without you
