Here Comes A Raincloud

China Crisis

Watching the raincloud take over me watching my people what do I see nothing but hardship the poorer we are we're living in danger of going to far

So here I am can you understand so much to live for in so little time

So many places all I have seen watching the sunrise they dream and they dream

Watching the raincloud take over me watching the sunset the end of a dream