

One More Time

Clan of Xymox

You do it all again
You stop making sense
When everything is all forgotten
You've got the devil in your eyes
And lips too warm for lies
But every word sounds quite foreboding
See you fading away , see you slip away
And no one knows how you got here

In a sequence of events
I am waiting in suspense
When no one listens to each other
The day never ends
When they carry you on hands
But no one knows how you suffer
See you , call it a day
See you in dismay
When light comes and the night's forgotten
So fall into the day
So fall in every way
When everyone is always right
So fall into the day
So fall in every way
Where everything is always bright

So fall into the day
So fall in every way
When everything is always bright
So you say , one more time
So you say , it's no crime
So you say , one more time
So you say , it's no crime

So fall into the day
So fall in every way
When everyone is always right
So fall into the day
So fall in every way
Where everything is always bright...
So fall into the day
So fall into the day
So fall into the day
So fall into the day
