

Find Somebody

Danzig

You shouldn't wear the face of sorrow
You must take up and downs in stride
A brighter day might come tomorrow
Your dream-world door will open wide

You'd better go and find somebody to love
(You'd better go and find somebody)
You'd better go and find somebody that needs somebody
To love somebody like you

Now, if you think there'll be no other
Just change your mind, it isn't so
Open your mind and you'll discover
You will see things you never know

You'd better go and find somebody to love
(You'd better go and find somebody)
You'd better go and find somebody that needs somebody
To love somebody like you

The shadow of a fallen angel
Will follow everywhere you go
If once the light of love is able
It will set all your dreams aglow

You'd better go and find somebody to love
(You'd better go and find somebody)
You'd better go and find somebody that needs somebody
To love somebody like you
