

Exit Wounds

Dark Age

Your words have hit me like a ten ton steam hammer, bitch...
... cutted me in two, have pulled me down to kneel for you

You freak... indeed, our battles made me weak You freak... mendacious bliss in all you seek

Qhen you are falling your wounds are calling You need to hurt to feell free... right on

Who knew what I ran into- demons that returned to you A weak, fake fall or helpless need inbred to sponge our bleed

Free are the ones who can choose and you know there is nothing to loose

Follow me into all misery
I choose you to reveal my exit wounds
Fallacy composed my harmonies
I want you to unscar these crying wounds

My exit wounds
