As we walk through the valley of transparent souls We have to find the knowledge of sin So we will fear the light as the darkness Hate lies beyond the fall of any angels Search the lies In the insane sanity And try to invent hope for Those who have denied Never seen Never touched the wisdom of pure pain Look into the anguish of faith And see the helpless face of reality Take a look and see the time forever Through endless sorrow we have to wander Drift around in a chaos of regret We're being slain in the true circles of hell Search the lies In the insane sanity And try to invent hope for Those who have denied Never seen Never touched the wisdom of pure pain Don't compare your souls to mine Use your dark powers from deep inside

Let the hate guide our minds to total control
A world full of souls
That have failed to complete their dreams
Anxiety, the breeding of deranged erudition
Search the lies
In the insane sanity
And try to invent hope for
Those who have denied
Never seen
Never touched the wisdom of pure pain
The eternal battle between good and evil
Saint and sinner
