Soap (I Use The)

David Gates

I use the soap to wash the dirt of my face I write with pencil so that I can erase But what's to do when someone's taken my place with you, with y ou

I know to stop when the light turns to red And when it rains I know to cover my head But what's to do when I wish'd I were dead over you, 'ver you, over you

Do do do do etc Plannin' to write off tomorrow Do do do do etc Hopin' to wash off the sorrow

I woke to find that my world was not there It ceased to me when I found you did not care And my ambition vanished into thin air along with you, with you

Now my emotions find it hard to let go And as for me I'll find a new road to hoe But maybe this time I will take it more slow than before, befor e Than before
