Wrapped in the pain that you gave to me I got lost inside the maze of my memory deep in my heart I die without cease for my lover ran away to find release and if I had to do it again would I make it right and if I had to lose it again would I hold you tight forgive me I was blind to the world outside I was unkind to the world outside of me feed me the right words dead to the world for days on end I cried for my little girt scattered my ashes all over the sea curled up in the debris you left of me and if I had to do it again would it turn out fine and if I had to lose it again would I call you mine to dream of a world made for me and you was such a lovely thing to do