Too Fancy

Debbie Gibson

He likes Armani suits
To wear with ties of silk
Bought a herd of cows
To milk his own milk
I like his heart of gold, his personality
He's just too fancy for me

He's got a Cartier and a Mercedes Benz And that was all ok When we were only friends But when we're on a date It's all too plain to see He's just too fancy for me

I like a man who can roll up his jeans
And wade in the water
And still has some dreams
I like a man who can understand
Simplicity

Don't want 'em finely tuned Cause quirky men are cool The Concorde's caviar Ain't like Balducci's food Those thousand dollar suits May suit society But they're just too fancy for me

Give me a fishing boat Give me a wide eyed grin Don't even try to gloat Cause you won't even win

Don't want the courtside seats I want my nose to bleed He's just too fancy for me He's just too fancy for me
