The moment when you held me tight won't come back any more
And at the end of that night you slammed the door
My dream it died away just when I saw red And nothing but a memory is left inside my head

Nothing is forever in life
But a memory believe it`s true
And when I gaze in the rain
i`m crying just for you

The scarlet rose has died Lost inside the night Left in my mind like a dream and full of pride The scarlet rose has died

The one and only way to catch the beauty of a dawn
Is to take a picture of the growing sun

I got that experience no one could steal away One moment of your life is mine I remember day by day

Nothing is forever in life
But a memory believe it`s true
And when I gaze in the rain
i`m crying just for you
