Daughter Of The Damned

Fireball Ministry

Beyond The life-giving highway Reckless and innocent The open door to everyday Tried giving it up but it was already gone For the weight of the world, didn't try to long

Cry out The living fortress of pestilence Over and under Bow down for resistance

Too many fools have made their fortune Broke drown the walls and found them crying

If I waited too long To make right all that was wrong It was innocent, only innocent

Begin Never casting aspersions Finding the solitude Bow down for aversion

Too many fools have made their fortune Broke drown the walls and found them crying

If I waited too long To make right all that was wrong It was innocent, only innocent
