

The Flame Still Burns

Foreigner

I live a life that's surreal where all that I feel I am learning my life, is like an ever spinning wheel fuelled by a fire that's still burning and in time, it's all a sweet mystery when you shake the tree of temptation yeah and I, I know the fear and the coast of a paradise lost in frustration

And the flame still burns It's there in my soul forever I know
from a glimmer back then
It lights up again in my life

Uhh I, I want my thoughts to be heard the unspoken words of my wisdom today, as the light starts to glow tomorrow who knows who will listen but my life has no language of love no words from above are appearing but in time, in time the fire will grow with a reason for hope and believing

And the flame still burns
It's there in my soul forever I know

Ohh, keep rolling, keep that flame still burning keep on rolling, while the world keeps turning haa, keep rolling yeah, keep rolling haa, yeah uh

And the flame still burns
It's there in my soul, It's there_ in my soul
and the flame still burns yeah It's there in my soul forever I know
and the flame still burns

oh yeah
and the flame still burns
oh It's there in my soul oh it's there in my soul
oh It lights up again in my life in my life
