Round About Way

George Strait

As far as all my friends can tell I took her leavin' well - that's kinda right, 'Cause when I'm out with them, I don't let her memory rule the night. For the most part I'm okay, But I still miss her in a round about way.

Around about the time that midnight rolls around. That's around about the time my tears start falling down. 'Cause she's not around, I come unwound and my heart breaks. Yeah, I still miss her in a round about way.

I no longer sit alone for hours by the phone, Wishin' she would call. And just the other day I took her smilin' face down off my wall. I've come a long long way, But I still miss her in a round about way.

Around about the time that midnight rolls around. That's around about the time my tears start falling down. 'Cause she's not around, I come unwound and my heart breaks. Yeah, I still miss her in a round about way.

Yeah, I still miss her in a round about way.
