Graham Parker

Waste my time on the absurd static that just seems to cling

I can't waste a minute can't send a minute

G d d see e

Can't waste a minute of your timeless love

I'm all fingers and thumbs fumbling the things to do

To make life better for you

Don't get a thing when it comes but everything's a lot less blu

Since I met you

But I haven't got that much time and what I've got isn't mine

I woke up in the night and realised I hadn't slept

I'd just been dreaming

Someone pushed for a fight but somehow I'd already left

I woke up screaming
