Full Moon Crazy

Honor Society

I don't know what you thought this was gonna be
You're standing there, looking good but I don't wanna see you
The walls are movin' in closer I head for the door
But you're standing in front of the handle
I can't handle, the way that you're smothering me
I don't wanna see yo

You're up you're down
You smile you frown
You're unpredictable
You bring me too much stress, baby
So put yourself in check

I don't need no drama in my life
You're not that special anyway
In fact you're getting much colder
Acting bi-polar, ruining my day

I don't need no drama in my life
Had enough of you all the things you put me through
'Cause you're flakey you're shaky need someone to save you
Girl you're full moon crazy

Got to my car dropped my keys you're chasing after me
Then she said, burning red, "You'll be sorry"
You throw my keys at me and I can't believe
That you had such a crazy reaction
Unattractive the way that you acted
Now I gotta leave

You kiss you yell and the lies that you tell
You got me on my knees
You're wilin' in the streets and I'm beggin' you to leave, baby

I don't need no drama in my life
You're not that special anyway
In fact you're getting much colder
Acting bi-polar, ruining my day

I don't need no drama in my life
Had enough of you all the things you put me through
'Cause you're flakey you're shaky need someone to save you
'Cause you're full moon crazy

Remember when we met and everything was perfect
What happened to that girl?
If she ever comes back my heart is always open
The moon's in position
So make your decision

I don't need no drama in my life
You're not that special anyway
In fact you're getting much colder
Acting bi-polar, ruining my day

It's time to get over your pride
You're not that special anyway

In fact you're getting much colder
Acting bi-polar, ruining my day

I don't need no drama in my life
Had enough of you all the things you put me through
'Cause you're flakey you're shaky need someone to save me
You're full moon crazy
