Madrigals

Howie Day

I'm not so sure what I was dreaming About but I'm sure it was better Than this and I'll hope you suppose That I'm alright I'm buying you flowers

You told everyone, they know everything is real And your madrigals and your silver rings I still see a flash From the time I opened my eyes too wide

I couldn't have asked you to stay I'm already falling to pieces From this and I'll hope you suppose That I'm alright I'm sending you flowers

You told everyone, they know everything is real And your madrigals and your silver rings I still see a flash From the time I opened my eyes too wide

I said to know your troubles... (repeat)
