Hurtin's All Over

Jan Howard

A year ago today I felt like dying as unloved and unwanted as a heart could be

But time has a way of changing yesterday now the hurtin's all o ver all over me

Yes the hurtin's all over all over my body
It started in my heart and it's spread all over me
Father time did his part took the hurt out of my heart
Now the hurtin's all over all over me

Now my arms ache to hold you like they used to do And my eyes ache for the love light they no longer see How I miss your caress how my lips ache to be kissed Yes the hurtin's all over all over me Oh the hurtin's all over...
