

Here Comes The Night

Janis Ian

Touch in the tenderest night before the feelings take flight Touch and you make everything new Everything bright, shiny and true
Before the dawn and the light,
here comes the night
Here in the heart, I still breathe, longing, a part of me I can't see And if the heart cannot redeem one soul apart, one separate dream Before the dawn and light,
here comes the night
Here we are waiting and longing Crying out "I am more than just a man"
Building castles in the sand
All of us needing and leaving long before the break of day
So little time to say I am - I know the way
And I want to be somebody who can see forever
Want to be somebody
who can see forever
Here in the heart, I still dream Here in the heart of life I seem somebody light, somebody new Somebody bright, shiny and true
Somebody light, somebody new
Somebody bright, shiny and true
I want to be somebody
who can see forever
Before the dawn and the light
here comes the night
Before the dawn and the light
here comes the night
