

The Sun Shines On Everything

Jason Reeves

Is anything hiding in the sky
If only the wind taught my feet to fly

Mmm

So maybe clouds are a little shy
It's making me wonder

Mmm

It's making me wonder

If everything's this beautiful beneath the pavement
If everything is beautiful inside my mind

Yeah

And I feel it going down
I feel it

And I feel it all around my body
This sun is certainly shining on everything

'Cause you hit my eyes like the morning light
Rushing like waves through countryside
And you took me down like a landslide
You're taking me under

Mmm

You're taking me under

When everything's this beautiful beneath the pavement
If everything is beautiful inside my mind

Yeah

And I feel it going down
I feel it

And I feel it all around my body
This sun is certainly shining on everything

This used to be air and I really miss breathing
There used to be grass underneath the trees
The city is a vampire sucking on phonelines
The sun is still shining on everything
Oh

And I feel it going down
I feel it

And I feel it all around my body
This sun is certainly shining on everything
This sun is certainly shining on everything
