

Anything Is Possible

Journey

Up against the world as you face your destiny.
Don't let today's regrets affect tomorrow's dreams.
When you shoot for the moon and you miss your mark,
Baby you'll still end up so high among the stars.

Anyone can give up but it's time to risk it all,
Knowing where you stand and you'll never fall.

If you can see how you imagine your life
You want to dream now and you know that anything is possible
It's not who you are, it's where you wanna go.
You don't need a miracle, believe that anything is possible.

Try to break my brick, throw away the stone
Take a chance on something, build a castle you call home.
Live for the moment, you can't put into words.
Don't keep a song inside, let your voice be heard.

Find a true desire, don't be afraid to cry.
Better to reach for something, than to never have tried

It's time to see how you imagine your life.
You want to dream, you know that anything is possible.
It's not who you are, It's where you wanna go.
You don't need a miracle, believe that anything is possible.

It's not who you are, It's where you wanna go.
You don't need a miracle, believe that anything is possible.

It's time to see how you imagine your life.
You want to dream, anything is possible.

It's not who you are, It's where you wanna go.
You don't need a miracle, anything is possible.

It's the choice you make, It's the time you take
It's the risk you take, you know that anything is possible.
It's the choice you make, It's the time you take
It's the risk you take, believe that anything is possible.