Here Come the Tears

Judas Priest

Once I dreamed that love would come and sweep me up away Now it seems life's passed me by, I'm still alone today Here come the tears

Looks like it'll always be the same No one here to comfort me Here come the tears

All alone, no one cares. So much to give to you all out there.

Take me now, in your arms. Let me rest, safe from harm.

Ohhh I want to be loved I need to be loved Won't somebody love me

Here they come, here come the tears Here they come, here come the tears...
