

Grand Canyon

Kathy Mattea

I've seen you calm the waters raging in the rivers of my mind
Your spirit blows a breeze into my soul
And I've felt the fire that warms the heart
Knowing that it comes from you
Then I've let it turn as cold as a stone

Oh, sometimes I feel like I'm as close as your shadow
Sometimes I feel like I'm looking up at you

From the bottom of the Grand Canyon, so small and so far
From the Grand Canyon with a hole in my heart
And I'm a long way from where I know I need to be
And there's a Grand Canyon between you and me

I've had the faith that gave me strength for moving any mountain
I've felt the solid ground beneath my feet
But I've had the bread of idleness while drinking from a well of doubt
And it shakes the core of all I believe

Oh, sometimes I feel like I'm as close as your shadow
Sometimes I feel like I'm looking up at you

From the bottom of the Grand Canyon, so small and so far
From the Grand Canyon with a hole in my heart
And I'm a long way from where I know I need to be
And there's a Grand Canyon between you and me
There's a Grand Canyon between you and me

Sometimes I feel like I'm as close as your shadow
Sometimes I feel like I'm looking up at you

From the bottom of the Grand Canyon, so small and so far
From the Grand Canyon with a hole in my heart
And I'm a long way from where I know I need to be
And there's a Grand Canyon between you and me
And there's a Grand, Grand Canyon between you and me
