

Anthem

Katra

Again the same old dream,
I wake up in the night
The sound of my own scream
Make me wonder

Why I have to feel
You're walking over me
Even when I sleep
You pull me under

Maybe it's because
I just won't kneel you
Like the other do
I see you through

I have to endure
The pain, but at least
I know what's the truth
I know that you are

"Lying, luring
It is just an act
Not true, not a fact
Trusting and falling
They look up to you
Anthem for a fool"

You love to wear that crown
Your statue of deceit
Your secret will come out
I'll make sure of it

Take the stage for now
I have no will to fight
Go mislead the crowd
Remember that you are

"Lying, luring
It is just an act
Not true, not a fact
Trusting and falling
They look up to you
Anthem for a fool"
