

Images Of The Past

KenZiner

I call destiny, by the moon in the dark of the night
I scream angrily, for a chance to plead our plight
I cry remorsefully, to the stars within my sight
I feel desperately, it wasn't fair nor was it right

Then the wind, the rain and the hail
All came crashing down
The blame, the pain and the shame
All came around

Face to face with love...images
Turn your back on above...images
We walk hand in hand...images
It's all the master plan...images

Images of the past

We will never forget, my mind is clear
Time goes ever so fast, images of the past

[Solo]

Face to face with love...images
Turn your back on above...images
We walk hand in hand...images
It's all the master plan...images
Then the wind, the rain and the hail
All came crashing down
The blame, the pain and the shame
All came around

We will never forget
My mind is clear
I count endlessly, all the ways to make us whole
We hold eternity, in our hearts and in our souls
I shake violently, with the thought that I've been told
We stand gallantly, for the love that we still hold

Images of the Past

We will never forget