

Behold The Frigid Realm Of Div

Knights Of The Abyss

Frozen in time beneath the land we walk
In a far distant realm the sins of man are locked Held by the judgment of demons for their evil father to bask.

Down the concentric spiral this wretched path does wind
To an abyssal trench where hatred embodies does lie.
The ultimate betrayer and bringer of the plague, banished to dwell eternally here.

Hail the prince of this different world
For he banishes the killers and beasts of this land.
Justice will be served to the sins deep withheld
In eternal battle at dark rules demand.

A relentless parasitic cyst; your disease infecting our mother's womb.
Your life now lacking it's worth shall be locked in an eternal tomb.
Sinners, you surely must gather and bid your souls
farewell.
To be banished and enslaved in the torments of hell.

Face the judgment for which you will die.
A lifetime of sins indelible in time.

Forced to dwell in infinite hell, thrown to damnation for the desire to kill
