

I've Lost My Marbles

Lost Years

I wanna break my fking teeth on the concrete where
You said to me "There's a train wreck running through
My head. It feels like were seventeen again cause I
Hate everyone and I just want to be alone but your Everywhere and everyone I don't wanna be and I would
Hate myself if I never leave.

And my days drag on just fine
And I sleep most nights but sometimes
You cross my mind and I start sinking
Like old times. When you and I when we
Collide it's a train wreck every time.

When you say my name in that condescending
Way it makes me hate you more than I did yesterday.
I wanna break my fking teeth on the concrete where
You said to me "You're every where and every thing
I don't want to be"

But those days are dead and gone
So move on from everywhere that you
Don't want to be. Cause I miss the old kid.
The one that didn't give a shit about tattoos and paying rent.

When you say my name in that condescending
Way it makes me hate you more than I did yesterday.
I wanna break my fking teeth on the concrete where
You said to me "You're every where and every thing
I don't want to be"

Those days are dead and gone.
Those days are dead and gone.
Those days are dead and gone.
Those days are dead.
