

Cry to Yourself

Magnum

There's no disgrace cryin' out loud
Bitter the taste into the crowd
Easy to tell passin' you by
Bids you farewell, no firm reply

Don't get upset
And let it take you away
There's no regret
There's nothin' more you can say
You know the sun will come out shinin'
At the start of every day

Cry to yourself
You've got to trust your dreamer's heart
Nobody else
Will tell you when you fall apart

Please don't applaud, how can you tell
This crown of thorns won't fit you well
Never a word, nothin' to choose
Mildly concerned, just to confuse

Don't get upset
And let it take you away
There's no regret
There's nothin' more you can say
You know the sun will come out shinin'
At the start of every day

So stay awake
You're just a shadow in this world
Then mornin' breaks
And there's no trace where you've been curled

Cry to yourself
You've got to trust your dreamer's heart
Nobody else
Will tell you when you fall apart

So stay awake
You're just a shadow in this world
Then mornin' breaks
And there's no trace where you've been curled
