On A Sea Of Grass - Day

Manticora

...and on they sail without water Overwhelmed by sudden emotions Looking at the sky (they'll see) Luminescence from vast explosions

So we're finally leaving the ship Haunted by the stench of death Watching destruction sweep the sky Everyone will lose their breath

...and on they search for the Templar Lost from sight in a frenzied bloodbath Setting out watch, controlling weapons Invisible monster on a killing path
