

Consider This

Marit Larsen

For all that is lost
For all that is cruel
For all that is new
Consider this
For all that is dark
For all that is here
For all that is true
Consider this
Before your mind's made up and all falls into to place
Before your shoes are tied and you go on your way
Before you give in to the danger of our kiss
Consider this
For all that is new
For all that has been
For all that's enough
Consider this
For all that is failed
For all that is gone
For all that is lost
Consider this
Before your mind's made up and all falls into place
Before your shoes are tied and you go on your way
Before you give in to the danger of our kiss
Consider this
For all that is said
For all that is now
For all that will be
Consider me
Consider me