

Museum

Mark Lanegan

You hear them call your name
From your room, far removed
Don't let 'em use you in, every way
Stay unchained, around and 'round you go

They'll never know, what you've seen
Why have you turned away, you can believe, believe in me
Couldn't you try one time
See if they'll run, for a while, it's a solitary star

Shining precious light, light on me
When I see your eyes
Tell me what you find
But I oughtta know, by now

Did you hear them call your name
From your room, far removed
I'd only use you in, every way
Stay unchained, it's a solitary star

Shining precious light, light on me