Sinnerman

Midge Ure

You're through with hoping You're done with dreaming Why have you burned every bridge you have crossed?

You can't rely on anyone You're mother's boy, you're father's son If you believe in no-one what will you do? Oh, it's there in front of you

Pull for the shoreline, reach for a hand You're nothing at all, oh you sinnerman No more excuses, won't you please understand? You're lost without love, oh you sinnerman Sinnerman

So leave the darkness you carried with you Those angry skies All the storms you've been through

The battle's over, walk away The simple price you have to pay Is to believe that someone's helping you through Oh, it's all you have to do

(Gaelic solo)

Pull for the shoreline, reach for a hand You're nothing at all, oh you sinnerman No more excuses, won't you please understand? You're lost without love, oh you sinnerman Oh sinnerman

Pull for the shoreline, reach for a hand You're nothing at all, oh you sinnerman No more excuses, won't you please understand? You're lost without love, oh you sinnerman Sad sinnerman
