

A Darker Side Of Me

Miss Li

When the winter is near, are you prepared? After summer, there's an autumn on the rise. Will you still hold me near when the everyday is here? And you start to see a darker side of me.

I bless the day I met you, Like a beam of light you came. It was the sunny spring of our life. Please, don't let it fade.

When the winter is near, are you prepared? After summer, there's an autumn on the rise. Will you still hold me near when the everyday is here? And you start to see a darker side of me.

I can't live without you, You became a home to me. In a world where things are changing Will you stay the same for me?

When the winter is near, are you prepared? After summer, there's an autumn on the rise. Will you still hold me near when the everyday is here? And you start to see a darker, And you start to see a darker side of me.

Darker side of me, darker side of me.

Will you hold on to me through stormy nights? Will you always be here by my side?

When the winter is near, are you prepared? After summer, there's an autumn on the rise. Will you still hold me near when the everyday is here? And you start to see a darker, You start to see a darker side of me.
