Immense Malignancy

Monstrosity

Decrepit, replete with misery the elders lie diseased and are dead or dying Dilapidated, we feel tortured You live the life of a corpse its the destiny of your death

This malignancy is so immense and in the end you'll all die off A living carcass that is soon to crumble and leave this feeding ground of the dead

Erosion of your carcass your skin begins to tatter as the worms consume your brain Weathered your life corrodes trapped in horror while your body bio-degrades
