

Letter From A Friend

Novice

Sunlight breaks over moonlit skies
This day comes too life
This cold air that I breathe is fatal
And there's no comfort here
You're the same but I have changed
But you wait for me still
I got your letter it said you'd never leave
And you'd forgive me

And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And I will scream for you forever
And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And will you wait for me to get there

Forget all those times that I was wrong
I know I let you down (please forgive me) everyday
But still you're there waiting
For me to come home to you
To be with you
No matter how far I run away
Your wings protect me

And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And I will scream for you forever
And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And will you wait for me to get there

Inside my heart (I know I'll see a better day)
You are beating (If I stay with you forever)
Inside my heart (I know that there's no other way)
You are speaking (Will you wait for me to get there)
Speaking to me tonight

And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And I will scream for you forever
And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And will you wait for me to get there

And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And I will scream for you forever
And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days
And will you wait for me to get there

I will sing, I will scream
Will you wait for me to get there
(And I will sing for you forever
For the rest of my days)
I will sing, I will scream
Will you wait for me to get there
