

We've fallen down on our way to the top
On our way to the top
I'm trying to find the right words
I'm trying to find the right words
We've almost lost our grip on this
As we look up at the edge
As we look up at the edge
We find gravity defying us
And now we're face first in a fist full of setbacks
We'll make our way to the top
We'll pave the way to the top
We'll pave the way

We'll take this next step onward
Because we can't afford to look back now
Don't look back down
We'll take this next step onward

Listen in for the voices
Listen in for the voices

The forecast said the storm would miss
We knew they were wrong when the wind rushed in
The forecast said the storm would miss
We knew they were wrong when the wind rushed in

We'll take this next step onward
Because we can't afford to look back now
Don't look back down
We'll take this next step onward

Listen in for the voices
Listen in for the voices
Listen in for the voices
Listen in for the voices

And while you're looking for the doctor
I'll be looking for the medication
I'll be looking for the medication
And while you're looking for the doctor
I'll be looking for the medication
I'll be looking for the medication
And while you're looking for