Baby Rocks

Phil Vassar

She's got "Honky Tonk Woman" on her license plate She's got black leather britches and long, long legs She's got a booty tattoo red lips and a tounge Well, some girls just know how to have fun Start me up, sugar, let the tumbling dice roll My baby rocks like the Rolling Stones My little backstage beauty knows how to dance She's got a backwood boogie and a Hollywood glance Got it shake, shake, shake, shaking, baby, all night long Got everybody just dancing along She's buck wild, she's bad to the bone My baby rocks like the Rolling Stones Last night, I kissed her and she slapped my face It was her, her twin sister standing in her place, yeah She just smiled and said "No harm done." I hit the jackpot, baby, two for one Double gown, get Mick and Keith on the phone My baby rocks like the Rolling Stones My baby rocks like the Rolling Stones
