

Picture of Heaven

Reamonn

Yeah, I've got something that you can't have
It's a picture of heaven that I stole from the dead
And I got something in my room
Gonna open it up, and let the light shine through

'Cause I've seen heaven in the light of your pain
Gonna feel your warmth, as you walked through the flame
I could see your tears now, washing your face
Could you see my light guide you to this place?

Got a picture of you in my room
Gonna open it up, let the light shine through
Got a picture of you in my room
Gonna open it up, let the light shine on you, let the light shine on you
Let the light shine on you, let the light shine on you

Yeah, I've seen heaven in the strength of your eyes
And the fear of the living, well, you loose when you fly
And now you're stronger, stronger than life
Your flame in the fire, lights up the night

Got a picture of you in my room
Gonna open it up, let the light shine through
Got a picture of you in my room
Gonna open it up, let the light shine on you
See the light shine on you, let the light shine on you
See the light shine on you

Come on, come on be strong
Come on, come on be strong
Come on, come on be strong
Come on, come on

Come on, come on be strong
Come on, come on be strong
Come on, come on be strong
Come on

'Cause I got something in my room
Gonna open it up 'cause it reminds me of you
