Harald Hadrade

Rebellion

Fifteen years, too young to die
The saint he fell within the last battlecry
But the time has come for you not yet
Escape from the battle of Stiklestad

Baptized by the sword and the shield Destined to be kind
The last in line
Lead this epoch to an end
To be written in blood
Named Harald Hadrade

Out there in the world, afar from home Explore all the east and grow up so strong No riches, fights or prisonwalls Will keep you away, when your destiny calls

Baptized by the sword and the shield Destined to be kind
The last in line
Lead this epoch to an end
To be written in blood
Named Harald Hadrade

See Norway lies bare down to your feet King Mgnus died, now your crown is complete At Englands shores you will just arrive To fight your last battle and pay with your life

Baptized by the sword and the shield Destined to be kind The last in line Lead this epoch to an end To be written in blood Named Harald Hadrade
