Refused

Inch by inch we're losing only more and more will we judge ourselves before we've lost it all underrated statement in time passed by we wouldn't recognize the truth if it laid before our eyes we're drowning in our own incompetence, we're drowning somewhere, somehow there's a bigger scar an infection of inconfidence already gone too far how badly do we need saving, do you want to know? the ultimate concussion, the final show
we're drowning in our own incompetence, we're drowning How does understanding begin, how can we help, we cant even we cant even, we cant even help ourselves!
