

All I Wanna Do Is Fall In Love

Robyn Hitchcock

Don't want no television
I don't need another drink
I don't need drugs or chemicals
Don't even wanna think

All I wanna look for is a place
Where I can see reflections of that face

I don't want no diversion, I don't need no bread and jam
I wanna breathe the air and be exactly where I am
And if you think that's weird, well you're insane
You never even danced naked in the rain

All I wanna do is fall in love
While there's still time

I'm looking for illusions that could sew me up for good
Could be a religion with a shiny leather hood
And if you think that's good, well that's alright
Maybe you could come on round tonight, sweet mama

All I wanna do is fall in love
While there's still time
All I wanna do is fall in love
While there's still time

Turn off the television
I don't need another drink
I don't need drugs or chemicals
To show me how to think

All I wanna look for is a space
That I can find reflections of her face

All I wanna do is fall in love
While there's still
All I wanna do is fall in love
While there's still

All I wanna do is fall in love
While there's still time
Time, time, time, time
