

Little Bird

Said the Whale

Little bird came into my life
When I'd forgotten how to sing

She had a broken wing, and on the night she came to me,
She sang for me cinders from a spark
Little bird had a broken heart

She sang all night

In the morning I awoke to find
I'd grown a smolder in my heart

When it was cold and dark
Little bird came into my life when I'd lost sight of the spring

She was the little spark

So I stoked the fire
And I held her warm by it

And we sang all night

Little bird came into my life when I'd forgotten how to sing
I had a broken wing and all the while she sang to men

A broken heart will learn the words to say
We'll fly again someday

So I stoked the fire
And I held her warm by it

And we sang all night

Just like a window in my heart
And I sang all night
