

All Of Me

Sarah Blasko

I'm wide eyed like a new life shaking in the breeze
Enraptured by the world, unsteady on my feet
I fall into a place that I have only dreamed
And I'm the woman that I've always longed to be

And I give all of me
Could you love all you see?

I'm like a young child in my simple words I speak
No memory haunts me, I am young and I am free
Safe in a hidden place and held within its arms
Oh let me love you, I will love you like a charm

And I'll give all of me
Could you love all you see?
I'm like a leaf in the breeze, like a pattern that bleeds

Oh come a little closer and speak a little softer
Will you whisper in my ear, make everything clear?
Oh come a little closer and stand beside me
Oh bring me to life, Oh bring me to light

And I'll give you all of me
Could you love and you see?
And I give all of me
Could you love all you see?
I'm like a leaf in the breeze, like a pattern that bleeds
In the morning it sings, like a bright morning sun
