

Love Note For A Rainy Day

SayWeCanFly

It's a rainy day in his heart
And all his lights burned out
He wants to feel the sunshine
But all he feels is doubt

And he wonders if she hears him when,
He doesn't make a sound
Or if she knows she saves him when
The world shoots him down

She brings out the best in him
Gives him motivation to keep going so
He wrote her a love note
That went a little something like this

When you find yourself caught in the rain
Just know you can call my name and
I'll light up the sky
When you find yourself with growing pains
With hurt that just won't go away then
I'll bring band-aids
Strong enough to turn that pain to love

It's a summer day in her heart
With flowers all around
Everything seems perfect but she's feeling kind of down
She wonders if he understands how much she really cares
How much she wishes everyday that he could just be there

'Cause he brings out the best in her
Makes her feel like shes the most beautiful girl
So she wrote him a love note
That went a little something like this

When you find yourself caught in the rain
Just know you can call my name
I'll light up the sky
When you find yourself with growing pains
With hurt that just won't go away then
I'll bring band-aids
Strong enough to turn that pain to love

When you find yourself with growing pains
Look inside your pillow case and
Read that love note I wrote
Just for a rainy day
