So Long

Shaman's Harvest

Now for so long you made me sweat After all this time, what's the benefit Use your eyes and ears of my life But if your gone in just one night

Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long It took you so long to leave Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long It took you so long to leave me

You say wake up, well consider me woke You say you got your friends but I got your goat You left me to wait, wait, wait, wait, wait Here without you Now your coming to stay, stay, stay, stay Bitch it ain't always about you

Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long It took you so long to leave Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long It took you so long to leave me

After all this time why'd it take so long All this time why'd it take so long After all this time why'd it take so long Why just hide, hide, party party

Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long It took you so long to leave Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long It took you so long to leave me Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long It took you so long to leave Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long Why did it take you so long It took you so long to leave me
